

We know how people move. More than 60 international airports and 150 major retailers rely on Xovis 3D sensors and software solutions for accurate, data protection-compliant people counting and flow control. Xovis is a young, innovative and rapidly growing company, based just outside Bern.

We are looking for a passionate

Technical Writer, 80% – 100%

to join our product management team.

Are you passionate about making a complex high-tech product easy to understand? Is your writing style concise and accurate? Are you a native English speaker? Here at Xovis, we want to provide consumer-style experience for an industrial product. Help us create exciting content about the next generation of our AI-based people counting sensors.

Requirements:

- Self-organizer, able to collaborate effectively to acquire the information needed
- High level of spoken and written English (being a native speaker is a big plus)
- Good technical understanding and/or personal interest in technology
- Knowledge of software development processes, or willingness to learn quickly
- Photography and video experience (e.g. as a hobby) is a plus
- Verbal and written German skills are an advantage

Your responsibilities:

- Document new Xovis UIs, APIs, sensor hardware and accessories, in a customer-oriented manner
- Reinvent and reorganize current Xovis product documentation
- Maintain and edit internal and external training content
- Ensure that content is always fresh, consistent and reliable

Benefits:

- Challenging role in the core product development team of the world's leading people counting sensors
- High level of responsibility and freedom to organize your day
- Work in a friendly, fun and highly motivated team
- Competitive salary, five weeks' holiday and flexible working hours

We are looking for an enthusiastic team player who enjoys working in a challenging and stimulating environment. You produce high-quality content and adapt easily to new and changing demands. You continuously seek improvements and appreciate the opportunity to solve demanding tasks in our growing company.
